

Below is a design diagram and a swatches chart of the fabrics I ended up using for your quick reference in helping you put you own fabrics together.

Putting it together:

1. Print out the two halves of the Welcome Sunflower template and tape them together with transparent tape. (See templates on page ??) Trace onto a piece of tracing paper at least 17" x 11". You can tape smaller pieces together.

You can print them out directly on 8.5" x 11" pieces of tracing paper using your inkjet like I did if you are comfortable putting tracing paper in your printer.

I use quilt binding clips to attach tracing paper to fabric. The paper never moves or rip when it's time to remove it. They are great, of course, for holding your binding in place without danger of pricking yourself constantly. And as an added bonus! these clips will also keep the hair out of your eyes if you've gone too long without a haircut.
